Description

The image on the poster is of an African American male standing behind a female. Both figures are facing forward with their heads turned to their right and their arms raised. In their right hands they are holding a book and a gear. In their left hands they are holding a document and a broken chain. The background is a pink mountain-scape with Abraham Lincoln's face at center with a blue sky and pink clouds. Agricultural tools and grain motif are at the lower right and left.
